

ManagedCare.com Joins TransUnion

TransUnion Welcomes Clients of ManagedCare.com

TransUnion is pleased to announce that ManagedCare.com, along with MedData LLC, are now a part of the TransUnion healthcare division. As a global leader in consumer data and information management, TransUnion creates advantages for millions of people around the world by gathering, analyzing and delivering information.

In the healthcare industry, TransUnion provides access to accurate, timely patient demographic and financial data, healthcare industry-specific scoring and analytics, and process automation tools to help providers improve revenue cycle management, reduce uncompensated care, manage bad debt and collections, and increase reimbursements.

By combining the powerful solutions of ManagedCare.com in performance analytics and reporting with TransUnion's expansive data sources and expertise in data management and decisioning technologies, we are now able to deliver significantly enhanced solutions to address your specific needs.

In the coming months, ManagedCare.com will be integrated into the TransUnion healthcare division. Our most important goal is to make this transition as smooth and seamless as possible for you. Therefore, you will experience no changes in customer service or production.

We are committed to the continuous improvement of the overall accuracy and quality of healthcare transactions through better data and decisioning technologies. Our acquisition and integration of the market-leading solutions from ManagedCare.com into the TransUnion healthcare portfolio further demonstrates our investment to this commitment.

TransUnion is excited to welcome the ManagedCare.com team. Together, we will make a preeminent healthcare organization that will drive innovative solutions to help our clients achieve profitable growth.
